

Project Manager – Food Processing Equipment

Are you motivated by using your technical background and can you provide a hands-on coordination handling food processing equipment to our customers? Then join this team and use your understanding of the food value chain to the benefit of our food producing customers!

The company:

This company has regional offices in throughout Scandinavia, Poland and Germany. The company is well established and has a working atmosphere based on trust, humor and an informal communication. The leadership style is modern and appreciative. The Project Manager position is based at the Head Quarter in Aarhus.

Position Responsibilities may include, but not limited to:

Champion the project management process for assigned projects in the Food Business Department in the company ranging from small to medium sized projects.
Work with colleagues and stakeholders to define project needs and goals.
Develop scopes of work and requests for proposals.
Review and evaluate project schedule, contract compliance, and quality control.
Coordinate project completion and handover with sales department and clients.
Establish a cross-company information on project status.
Monitor and evaluate operations and budget on an on-going basis.
Recommend changes to ensure efficient use of company capital and product optimization.

Required Skills and Experience:

Technical background, but no specific degree is required.
Food business experience preferred.
Project management skills e.g. assembling production equipment on site.
5 years' experience preferably within food processing, maintenance or repair.
Ability and willingness to travel when needed (Estimated less than 25 days a year).
Knowledge of general construction best practices in food manufacturing and hygiene compliance.
Good verbal and written communication skills.
Proficient in Microsoft Office.

Salary:

The salary is attractive and based on your qualifications. PC, Pension, Health insurance and benefits.

Contact:

For further information please call Combestra, Christian Saabye Simonsen +45 5130 6866. Please forward your CV and application to CSS@Combestra.dk All applicants are ensured absolute discretion.